

BRICK QUIZ – A NEW HOPE

By: János Rőmer

Here is one more opportunity to prove your top-rank among LEGO fans by passing this quiz without mistakes! Jokes aside, you have already got this status by reading this magazine, and now, here are our new ten questions for you!

Per how many moulded LEGO parts are there on average 18 failed pieces?

- a) per 10,000
- b) per 100,000
- c) per 1,000,000

EXO-FORCE was inspired by which culture?

- a) Egyptian
- b) Indian
- c) Japanese

What was the first sport a minifig took part in?

- a) soccer
- b) basketball
- c) hockey

Which sport has the minifig not played so far?

- a) windsurfing
- b) snowboarding
- c) golf

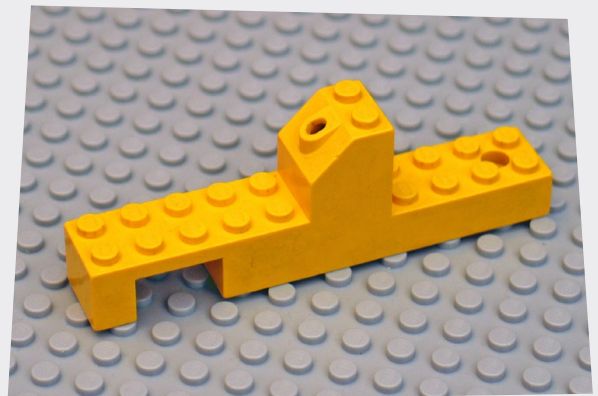

Mentioning sports, which one of these wanted to be a professional LEGO designer?

- a) Lionel Messi
- b) David Beckham
- c) Davor Šuker

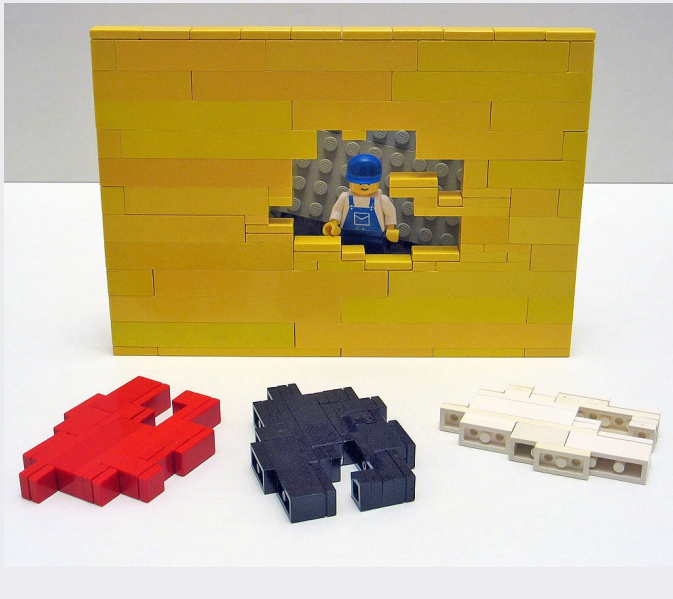

Archeological site! To which decade would you assign this artefact?

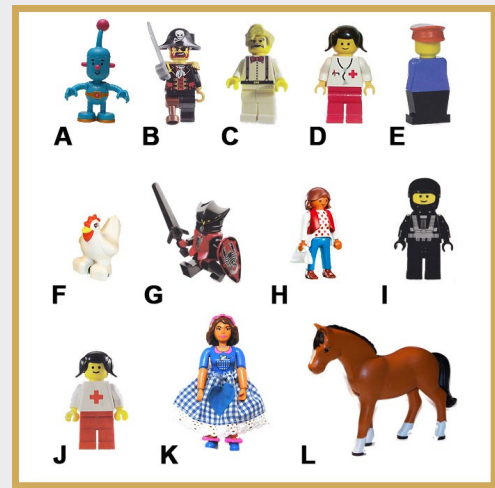

Puzzle: Steve the carpenter struck the wall a bit too hard! Which part will he use to fill the hole?

Fill & sort! Twelve creatures are listed below. Firstly, remove those that never appeared in a LEGO set, and afterwards, sort the remaining ones chronologically by the year they appeared for the first time, beginning with the oldest!

Reconstruct a set! From the parts on the photo, a set needs to be reconstructed, providing that only one extra part can be purchased from BrickLink!

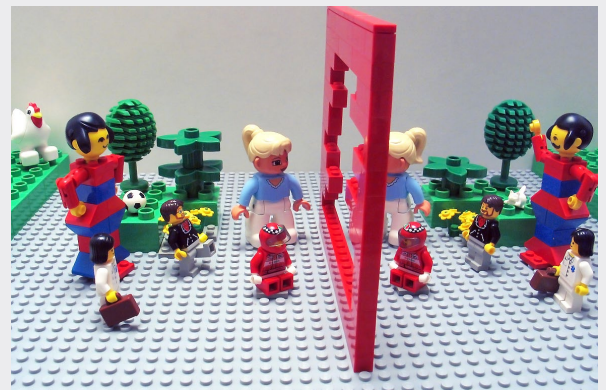

Which set is it?

- Which part would need to be ordered extra?
- Will there be any surplus parts?
- Which part did not appear in the original set but will be useful for the reconstruction?

What's wrong here? When this wall collapsed, Alice and her friends thought there was a mirror behind. But which 15 details assured them that's not the case?

BRICK QUIZ – A NEW HOPE ANSWERS

c) per 1,000,000

Having been moulded, the parts undergo inspections of shape and colour: approximately 18 parts per million fail the inspection.

c) Japanese

More accurately, this LEGO theme was inspired by Japanese Mecha.

a) soccer

Some LEGO sets reach back to 1998, and LEGO Soccer and Football were released in 2000, followed by basketball and hockey in 2003.

c) golf

Snowboarding was present, e.g. on Cabana beach in Paradisa set 6410 from 1994, and snowboarding took place in 2003, in set 3538.

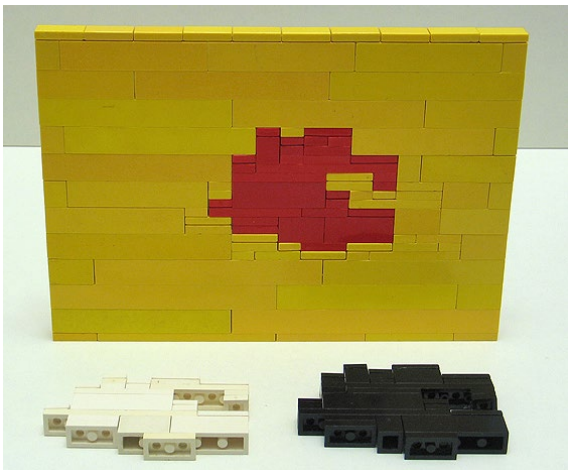

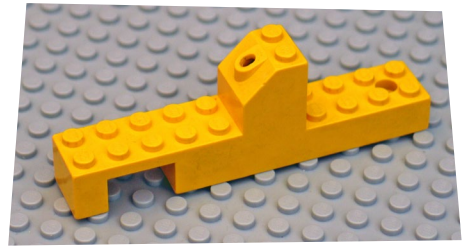

b) David Beckham

While building LEGO with his kids, he thought it would be nice to convert this hobby into a pro career. He was particularly inspired by the set 10189 Taj Mahal, which he admitted to never having built completely.

a) soccer

1970s! More precisely, that's the Tractor Chassis Base 11x2x3 that appeared between 1972 and 1977 in four sets and allowed turning the front wheels of the vehicle with a steering wheel, before Technic came along!

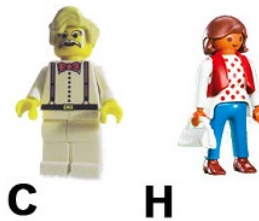

Red!

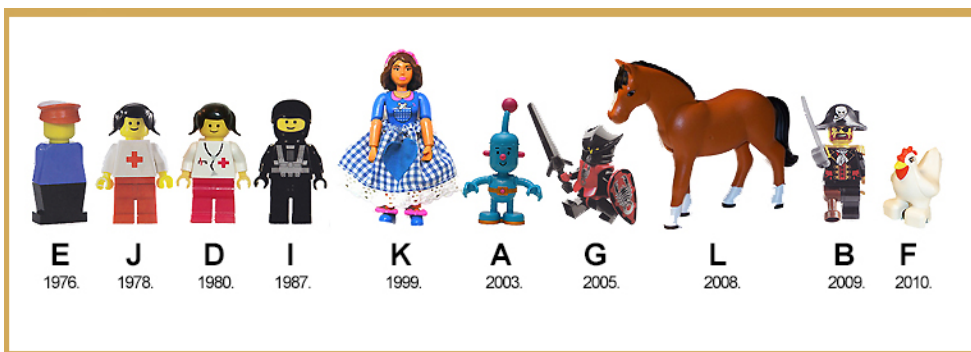

C and H are the intruders!

Minifig C is one of the Internet creations and never appeared in a set, and H is not LEGO at all. And the exact order is as follows:

C H

- E - Legoland Old Type
- J - Old Doctor
- D - Doctor
- I - Blacktron 1
- K - Belville Female
- A - Tiny, Little Robot DUPLO figure
- G - Shadow Knight Vladok
- L - Belville Horse
- B - Captain Brickbeard
- F - DUPLO Chicken

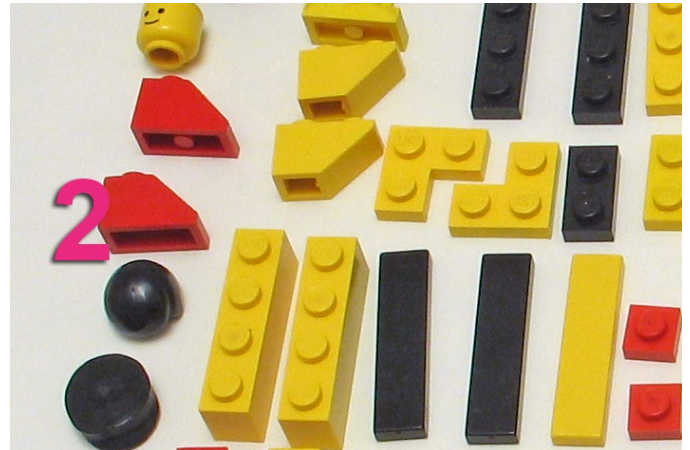

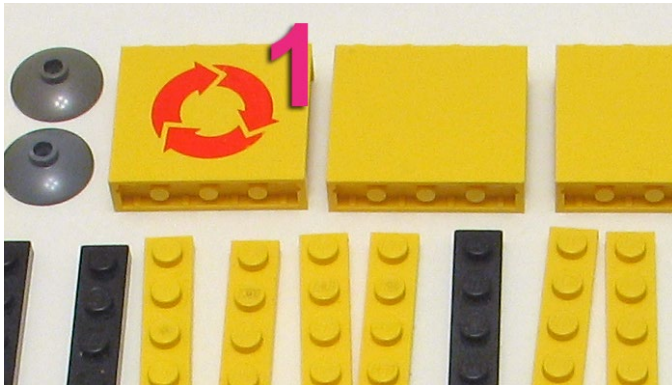

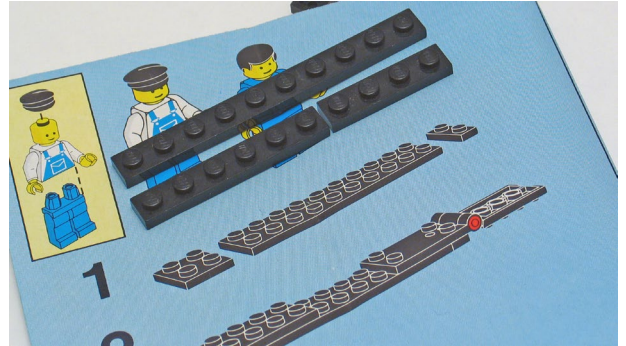

9

That's the 6693 Refuse Collection Truck.

One Black Plate 2x10 and Yellow Panel 1x4x3 with Recycling Arrows Pattern are missing, but since only one part can be ordered, Brick Plate can be assembled by combining 1x6, 1x4 and 1x10, and Panel can be ordered. That way nothing will be a surplus.

10

First ten differences relate to 'direct' differences, and the remaining ones do not obey the mirror symmetry!

1. - the chicken is missing at the right
2. - maxifig at the right has moustache
3. - maxifig at the right waves
4. - one flower is missing at the right
5. - the ball has been replaced by the cat
6. - the clothes' patterns do not match
7. - minifig at the right has no glasses
8. - flowers at the right have not been mounted on a plate
9. - the minifig at the right does not march
10. - the helmet visor is open at the left
11. - the hair crease is on the same side (not symmetrical)
12. - flowers aren't symmetrical
13. - the helmet is not symmetrical
14. - torso prints are not symmetrical
15. - the physician has her briefcase in the same hand
